Join Morgan Stanley's Code to Give Hackathon—a hybrid competition to build creative technology solutions for nonprofits. You will work in teams to solve a technical challenge for our nonprofit partner Salva Vita.

Salva Vita

Salva Vita evaluates the skills and competencies of applicants with disabilities, connecting these underserved community members to job opportunities.

Who?

We are seeking current students or recent graduates who are skilled in programming and passionate about leveraging the power of technology for social good. Ready, set, code!
